de Brasília

In 21 April 1960, the Brazilian capital was relocated from the Guanabara Bay to the Brazilian Central Highlands, ushering in a new era in Brazilian history. During its 60 years of existence, Brasilia has seen the unfolding of several events, such as the foundation of the University of Brasilia, on the first years and, later, the foundation of the Centre for Advanced Multidisciplinary Studies, during the redemocratisation period.

In order to commemorate the anniversary of our sexagenary capital, the Revista do CEAM will dedicate the second issue of the year 2020 to the theme "Brasilia: 60 Years" and will be accepting submissions from a multidisciplinary perspective that bring a little of the Brazilian Federal District, the University of Brasilia, or the Centre for Advanced Multidisciplinary Studies itself.

We accept original works in Portuguese, Spanish and English, in the following formats: research paper, literature review, theoretical studies, methodological studies, and research reports.
